Pia Grazdani pone su vida en peligro cuando empieza a indagar en las investigaciones secretas de la empresa de nanotecnología donde trabaja.

Tras una experiencia traumática, Pia Grazdani ha decidido abandonar los estudios de medicina y dedicarse por completo a la investigación. Ahora trabaja en Nano, un laboratorio de nanotecnología enclavado en las montañas de Colorado y custodiado como una fortaleza. Nano pertenece al competitivo mundo de la producción molecular y su proyecto estrella es la fabricación de microrrobots capaces de devorar virus y bacterias. Pia siente que están a punto de revolucionar la medicina.

Un día, Pia sale a correr y se encuentra con un desconocido que se ha desmayado mientras hacía ciclismo. El hombre, de rasgos asiáticos, está inconsciente y lleva ropa con el logo de Nano, por lo que ella deduce que debe de ser también empleado de la compañía.

Pia llama enseguida a una ambulancia y compruebalos signos vitales del hombre; su corazón late. Sin embargo, antes de que lleguen los paramédicos, el desconocido empieza a recuperarse y a hablar. Ella no entiende sus palabras, pero tiene claro que está aterrorizado.

¿Cómo se explica esta milagrosa recuperación? ¿Y qué relación guarda este ciclista con las investigaciones de Nano? A pesar de sus recientes malas experiencias, Pia no dudará en ponerse a investigar este misterioso incidente, aunque para ello deba verse inmersa en un torbellino de intereses que va más allá de la evolución de la medicina.

La crítica ha dicho...
