The author observed the large number of prints that are published which have dealt with the subject of ceremony, protocols, and what they call etiquette or decency of treatment on the personal level, and diplomacy on the official level. His attention is drawn to mention these concepts with its natures that applied in the western culture, and its use scale which has expanded almost to distract us from our authentic Islamic Arabic culture that's suffice us away from any abhorred strange of the foreign cultures, and mixing of extremes from what's published and reported in the media, the personal occasions, and in public meetings. In our research, our behavior must be based on the sources of nation's thought. On top of them come Qur'an, Sunnah, and the biography of righteous ancestors from which we derive everything that would fit our lives and reform our behavior. The author aims in this book to remind that there's in our heritage an inexhaustible wellspring in this field through lighting the way to who are fascinated with the imported custom, concepts, terminology, methods of expression, and ways of treatment to return to the right approach derived from the Book of Allah and the Sunnah of his messenger (PbUH), and all what's emanate from and agreed with them from including decency, and forms of behavior in our dealings with each other, and in our dealings with others.
